Happy Holidays San Diego Chapter!

The Chapter had a successful workshop in September and seminar in November that covered GSA Schedule Contracting and Terminations, respectively. Look for the announcement of our next seminar, on cost reimbursement contracting, in January.

Please join us on December 14 at Black Angus in Kearny Mesa for our Holiday Social with complimentary hors d'oeuvres and non-alcoholic beverages to our members and their guests. This is a great time to network, meet up with colleagues and get to know other members in the Chapter. Please visit <http://ncmasd.org/chapterscheduleevents/holidaysocial121411.html> for more information.

We continue to hold our monthly Contract Administrators' Round Table (CART) meetings, and have expanded to a meeting on the 4th Wednesday of each month in Carlsbad. We also offer, at no cost to our members, selected NCMA Webinars on topics of current interest. You can see the schedule for each of these events at <http://ncmasd.org/chapterscheduleevents.html>.

I am proud to announce this Chapter once again received a Gold Graalman Award for 2010-2011 program year. The Award signifies that we are doing our job in serving the members. I want to give a big thank you to our immediate Past President, Maurice Caskey, for his leadership and to all those who served on the Board. We are here to serve the members, with education in the field of contract management being our top priority. Please do not hesitate to contact any of the board members if you would like to volunteer or provide any feedback.

NCMA San Diego – Community Service

By Jennifer Myers

This year the NCMA San Diego Chapter launched a new Community Service committee to scout for two San Diego organizations worthy of a $250 donation. To kick off the program, the first donation is being made to Dress for Success San Diego.

Dress for Success is an international non-profit organization whose mission is to provide economic independence for disadvantaged women by providing professional attire to help them find jobs and remain employed. Dress for Success helps 50,000 women each year and has helped over 550,000 women world-wide with over 100 locations in the United States, Australia, Canada, the United Kingdom, New Zealand, Australia, the Netherlands, Mexico, Poland and the West Indies.

In addition to the professional attire service, at the cornerstone of their mission is their employment retention service that provides career development tools and a network of support. These tools are essential to helping the Dress for Success clients build thriving careers and prosper in the mainstream workplace. Dress for Success also offers a career center that provides technology skills and career guidance.

The initiatives behind Dress for Success are funded by financial contributions, donations, volunteers and success partners including Bobbi Brown and the Style Network. Bobbi Brown designed the 2011 Something To Share™ scarf, produced by Echo Design. $20 from each scarf sold will be donated to Dress for Success Worldwide. Bobbi Brown also partnered with Salaam Coleman Smith to present The Style Network's 3rd Annual Give and Get Fete event. This exclusive and lavish event on the rooftop of The London

West Hollywood is hosted by celebrities such as Jennifer Love Hewitt, Jaime-Lynn Sigler, and Tiffani Thiessen. 100% of the proceeds from ticket sales, silent auction and sponsorships will go to Dress for Success West Los Angeles.

NCMA San Diego believes that Dress for Success can make a real difference in the lives of women. We are proud to be a financial sponsor for Dress for Success San Diego to support underprivileged women find independence through career development. Our $250 donation will sponsor one Professional Women's Group, a monthly client forum for networking, workplace education, and life management consultation.

If you would like to make a donation to Dress for Success, please visit the website at www.dressforsuccess.org and choose "select affiliate" on the right hand side of the home page for the San Diego link.

Membership Focus - Meet Mitch McCormick

Mitch is the Website Co-Chairman of the NCMA San Diego Chapter. He has been a NCMA member since the summer of 2009. He is currently seeking work in the contract administration field. While seeking full-time employment, Mitch has performed as an independent contractor for various projects in contract administration.

Mitch began his contracting career with Wild Oats Markets, Inc. in Boulder, Colorado. Upon moving to San Diego in 1999, Mitch worked as Contracts

Manager for American Renovation and Construction Co. (ARC), a general contractor which specialized in building homes on military bases throughout the country. Early in 2007 Mitch began working for Navy Region Southwest - Morale, Welfare and Recreation in San Diego as a Supervisory Procurement Specialist. There he had an unlimited dollar Contracting Officer's warrant and supervised a staff of 8 Purchasing Agents and 6 Contract Specialists. His department processed the acquisition of more than $400 million in products and services annually. Most recently he worked for the County of San Diego as a Procurement Contracting Officer.

Mitch earned his undergraduate degree in Political Science from Loyola University in Chicago and a Masters in Public Administration degree from National University in San Diego. Earlier this year he passed the Certified Professional Contracts Manager exam earning the CPCM designation. He is also attending San Diego State University's Professional Certificate in Contract Management program needing only one more class for completion.

Mitch is single and, though originally from Chicago, enjoys raising his two sons as Southern Californians. He takes pleasure in history, baseball and preparing gourmet meals.

November 2011 Seminar – Contract Terminations

By Ray Chalupsky

On November 10th the San Diego Chapter was very fortunate to have Tom Reid, Director of Government Contracting Services for Navigant Consulting, address the topic of Terminations.

Tom presented an in-depth analysis of the various kinds of terminations and the consequences of each with corresponding strategies for dealing with them. A detailed Q&A session showed the interest of the audience. Tom's significant background on both sides of the table allowed him to present a diverse and accurate picture of terminations. His real world experience added many examples of terminations, both good and bad.

Additionally, during the November Seminar, member anniversaries were recognized. Refer to the list of milestone anniversaries on page 8 of the newsletter.

What is a PTAC?

Ninety-three Procurement Technical Assistance Centers (PTACs) - with over 300 local offices - form a nationwide network of dedicated procurement professionals working to help local businesses compete successfully in the government marketplace. PTACs are the bridge between buyer and supplier, bringing to bear their knowledge of both government contracting and the capabilities of contractors to maximize fast, reliable service to our government with better quality and at lower costs.

The Procurement Technical Assistance Program (PTAP) was authorized by Congress in 1985 in an effort to expand the number of businesses capable of participating in the Government Marketplace. Administered by the Department of Defense, Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), the program provides matching funds through cooperative agreements with state and local governments and non-profit organizations for the establishment of Procurement Technical Assistance Centers (PTACs) to provide procurement assistance.

PTACs come in many different sizes and shapes, reflecting the needs, priorities and resources of the areas they serve. Some PTACs are administered directly by state governments; others partner with universities, community colleges, local economic development corporations or other local institutions. Some PTACs operate within Bureau of Indian Affairs areas exclusively serving Native American owned businesses. Many are affiliated in some way with Small Business Development Centers and other small business programs. All PTACs are staffed with counselors experienced in government contracting and provide a wide range of services including classes and seminars, individual counseling and easy access to bid opportunities, contract specifications, procurement histories, and other information necessary to successfully compete for government contracts.

Many PTAC counselors have backgrounds in government acquisitions and virtually all receive ongoing training to keep pace with continually evolving acquisitions procedures and policies. The Association of Procurement Technical Assistance Centers (APTAC) provides a network that allows any PTAC counselor almost instant access to the expertise and experience of over 500 colleagues, as well as real-time information from government agencies regarding new requirements and initiatives.

APTAC is the professional organization of and for the 93 DLA-funded Procurement Technical Assistance Programs. APTAC supports the PTACs by providing them important information, professional networking, comprehensive training opportunities and a voice in national government contracting assistance and policy arenas. You can locate the supporting PTAC in any given area of the United States by using the following APTAC homepage link: <http://www.aptac-us.org/new/index.php>. The San Diego PTAC services small businesses in San Diego County. Their website is: <http://www.ptac-sandiego.org/workshop.html>.

Challenge Yourself - Make the move to gain a nationally recognized professional certification from NCMA.

*By Theresa
Robinson-Harris*

Change and uncertainty surround us with economic volatility and career instability. In these uncertain times, you need more knowledge, more experience and a step ahead of the competition. One way to ensure a secure future is to challenge yourself and get certified. Make the move to gain a nationally recognized professional certification from NCMA. Three professional designations are available: CFCM, CCCM and CPCM.

The CFCM (Certified Federal Contracts Manager) is our basic credential for both public and private sector contracting professionals. The CFCM Validates your education, training, experience, and knowledge of the practice of contracts management in the federal environment.

The CCCM (Certified Commercial Contracts Manager) is our basic credential for professionals involved primarily with commercial contracts. This certification validates your training and knowledge in the practice of contracts management in the commercial environment.

The CPCM (Certified Professional Contracts Manager) is our senior and most highly regarded credential. This certification tells the world that you are equipped with the training and knowledge to handle tough assignments in any contract environment.

For more information on the NCMA certification program please visit our website at www.ncmasd.org

Join Our NCMA San Diego CART Meetings!

The San Diego chapter has CART (Contract Administrators' Round Table) meetings that are guaranteed to make you a better contract professional and you can attend on the way to your office. The chapter conducts CART meetings on the 2nd Wednesday of every month for those who work in the Kearny Mesa area and the 4th Wednesday of every month for those who work in North County. Both meetings occur from 7:30AM to 8:30AM. The only ground rule is that you have to bring a question to be discussed, or a lesson you've learned that relates to public contracting.

Gabe Olivas would like to thank everyone for attending the 2011 NCMA CART meetings. Gabe was pleased to have the opportunity to meet with all those in attendance. Thanks from all the NMCA Board members. And, best wishes on the coming holidays. See you the next CART meeting.
